The impact of the African Diaspora in Spanish America is far greater than is understood or acknowledged in the English speaking world. Connected initially to the Spanish-Caribbean through trans-Atlantic slavery, Africa is so deeply ingrained in the biology and culture of these countries that, in the words of the Cuban poet Nicolas Guillen, it would require the work of a 'miniaturist to disentangle that hieroglyph.' Through complex explorations of narratives of Spanish Blacks in the Caribbean this collection of essays builds critically on mid and late twentieth century Afro-Hispanist scholarship and thereby amplifies the terms in which Africans in the Americas are generally discussed. Each of these essays deals with a pivotal aspect of the African experience in the Spanish speaking Caribbean from the period of slavery to the present day. The essays focus on Black African cultures in Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic as well as in the circum Caribbean areas of Mexico and Colombia. In the process they cover a vast and highly involved range of issues including abolition and the politics of anti-slavery rhetoric, African women's political activism, performance poetry and female embodiment of the Black Diaspora, the Cuban Revolution and its investment in African liberation struggles, race and intra-Caribbean migration, ritualised spirituality and African healing practices among others. Through their investigation of both official and popular cultures in the Caribbean not only do the essays in this volume show the indispensable functions of African cultural capital in the Spanish speaking Caribbean but they also underline the multiple demographic, socio-political and institutional imperatives that are at stake in considering contemporary understandings of the African Diaspora.

Una de las características fundamentales de la escritura de Cristián Cisternas radica en la tensión que adquieren las posibilidades del lenguaje. Si por un lado éste se define por la elaborada precisión lingüística y la rigurosidad descriptiva, dicha condición está al servicio de configurar una representación donde se privilegia la ambigüedad y la indeterminación. Más que un discurso de hechos o acciones, lo que despliega es una conciencia lúcida que, al tiempo que tensa al límite las posibilidades de la ficción, logra fundar una pluralidad de sentidos que batallan en sordina. Sorprende la fortaleza de una imaginación que sortea las categorías convencionales del género, para desplegar otras lógicas de construcción argumentativas y discursivas. En lo relativo a los núcleos temáticos activados, se privilegian las atmósferas, tanto sicológicas como espaciales, donde el registro cotidiano deviene siempre en situación extraña y sugerente. Como consecuencia de lo anterior, el lector apelado se debate entre el espectáculo de lenguaje que virtuosamente se escenifica ante él y los universos fictivos que difuminan cualquier posibilidad de certeza. En El faro y otros relatos, Cristián Cisternas ha instalado una voz propia, Habiendo asimilado lo mejor de sus referencias literarios Y lo ha hecho con propiedad, eficacia y calidad estética. The present English version, authorized by the publishers and heirs of M. Merimee, is based on the third French Edition. New material of two sorts has been added, however. First, the translator has been allowed to utilize an annotated, interleaved copy of the Precis, 1922, in which the author, and after his death his son Henri, himself a distinguished Hispanist, had set down material for the next revision. This accounts for many inserted names and phrases, and some paragraphs. Second, the translator has rewritten and added with some freedom.

"A deep and genuine analysis of the women writers who are the objects of each chapter, utilizing the most modern methods of literary criticism . . . this book will be viewed as essential not only by scholars of women in literature but also for specialists dealing with the nineteenth century."--Gregorio C. Martin, Duquesne University "She shows us things we have not seen before. . . . This is a sophisticated, elegant, and important text. It demonstrates clearly, and for the first time, how women helped to shape Spanish Romantic discourse--both as subject and as object--and how prevailing attitudes shaped their writings."--David T. Gies, University of Virginia "A deep and genuine analysis of the women writers who are the objects of each chapter, utilizing the most modern methods of literary criticism . . . this book will be viewed as essential not only by scholars of women in literature but also for specialists dealing with the nineteenth century."--Gregorio C.
